

For Generations in the Future to Read

The War Records of Thunder Bay Families

The biographies of all soldiers, sailors and nursing sisters from Fort William, Port Arthur, and the district of Thunder Bay generally are being collected.

They will be published in book form, showing the names, addresses, next-of-kin, regiments, battles, wounds, decorations, promotions and other information.

The book should contain upwards of three thousand biographies, illustrated by the photographs of those who represented this district overseas, or in any war service.

Printed on super-calendered paper, with full cloth binding and half-tone cuts, this glorious collection of individual service records should become the war reference book in all local homes.

HOW TO BE SURE

- That your story is included, or
- That the record of any member of your family is not omitted.

Send Today for the printed form on which to compile the biography. Answer the questions fully, and we will prepare the matter for publication. A typed proof will be then made up so that you may verify the facts.

The title of the book will be:

“SOLDIERS OF CANADA IN THE GREAT WAR”

We cannot include your biography of war service, nor that of your friend or relative unless you send the information. Delay in furnishing biographies to us means delay in publication. We are making every effort to get in touch with soldiers and their families, but if you have not been visited, or have not already provided particulars, write at once, or call in person.

Only sufficient books will be printed to meet advance orders. If you require a copy of the book place your order immediately.
