The Manitoba Free Press of Saturday announces that the eighth battalion "Little Black Devils," 90th rifles, sailed on the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Britain, on April 26th. They will reach Halifax on Sunday, May 4th, and should pass through here on their way to Winnipeg on May 7th. With the eighth battalion are the 16th battalion, 79th Canadian highlanders, Canadian Scottish; first battalion, Canadian Engineers; third battalion, Canadian Engineers. All these troops will demobilize at Winnipeg. Several local men are with the eighth battalion, and some are known to be with the 79th, as men left here for Winnipeg early in the war to enlist with these Scottish troops.
